SWIMMING MEET PROGRAM INSURES SPLENDID SPORT

Program of 23 Events Marks Maui's First Great Effort in Aquatics; Management Finds It Necessary To Add Many Seats To Accommodate Throngs Who Desire To Witness Carnival at Puunene Tank.

Swimming as a sport comes into its own on Maui tomorrow night at the Puunene tank. Numbers of entries made and the advance demand for seats show the success of the All-Maui swimming meet in advance of the carnival. Repeatedly the committee has had to arrange for increased seating capacity and would be glad if still more seats could be arranged.

All is staged for the meet. Duke, Harris and Prieste are on the Island ready to give their respective and collective exhibitions. Ethelda Bleibtry will not be here, it having been found impracticable by the committee to bring her from Honolulu, but at the next meet it is expected to have the best women and girl swimmers from Honolulu at the tank. The absence of the woman champion is a disappointment in a way but a program of 23 events and the participation of three Olympic stars is compensation and the carnival offers a feast of such good things that one vantage point included in the menu is really unimportant.

From 9:30 Sunday morning until after 4:30 in the afternoon the committee worked on final details for Saturday night and when it adjourned the program which follows had been arranged:

Press Congress Plans Proceed

Transportation Can Be Secured Even If Big Liner Is Not Available; Maui to ask Slight Changes.

World's Press Congress delegates will be brought to Maui, it is expected, at fair time in October, whether or not there shall be secured a large steamer for their tour through the Islands. Mr. Kennedy of the Inter-Island Steam Navigation Company has assured Fair Director D. C. Lindsay that, if necessary, his company will furnish two steamers for their transportation. Further details relative to tentative plans were received this week from L. A. Thurston, chairman of the Honolulu entertainment committee. Such tentative plans will require some changes which can readily be made.

Mr. Thurston writes that the dates for the congress have been fixed definitely as October 11-25. The Honolulu committee will suggest to Dean Williams, head of the congress, that as the first day will be broken up in getting located the congress take the second to fifth days, October 12, 13, 14, and 15 for its functions and remain in Honolulu over Sunday. Then comes the point where the tentative plans do not jibe with Maui's ability to meet them. In Honolulu it was proposed to have the delegates and their friends proceed from Honolulu to Kahului on Monday, reaching here that evening and remaining here Monday night, Tuesday and Tuesday night and then proceeding on to Hawaii by daylight.

Fair Days Immovable. It is impracticable to hold the fair on those days of the week and the committee will write back to Mr. Thurston offering the counter suggestion that they proceed to Hilo direct from Honolulu and leave the Big Island so as to reach Kahului either Thursday or Friday, remaining a day and a night or two days and a night as they may see fit.

Mr. Thurston said that the plans for a visit to the other Islands than Oahu hinged upon the securing of a big steamer for touring among them and evidently had not heard what Mr. Kennedy had told Mr. Lindsay. At that same time the Maori will be available to carry passengers to the fair here on one of her regular trips between Honolulu and Kahului.

Hilo is making extensive plans for the entertainment of the visitors on Hawaii but it is not apparent why such plans could not be carried out in the fore part as well as the latter part of the week. Maui's first invitation to the members of the congress specified they would be brought here at fair time and the week in which the fair would be held would be made to suit the plans of the congress but never contemplated anything that would suggest the holding of the fair at the beginning of a week. In Hilo there will be a ball with choral singing, a ride over the Hilo railroad and a visit to Kilauea, and Hilo estimates cost of entertainment at $1500, not paying for autos to the Volcano nor hotel expenses there, but including auto transportation about Hilo. The Big Island purposes to raise $5000, Mr. Thurston says, and put the balance over its own expenses of entertainment into the general entertainment fund.

Further entertainment plans on the part of Maui hinge on ability to secure the changes in the preliminary tentative plans made in Honolulu but it appears that fair plans will go forward with the idea of having its dates October 20, 21 and 22. They will be taken up by the committee when a further reply is received from Mr. Thurston.

Dr. Aiken to Represent Hawaii at Convention

Dr. George S. Aiken will represent the dentists of the territory at the meeting of the National Dental Association in Milwaukee in August. He was notified of his appointment as delegate from Hawaii in a letter received from the territorial association this week. He will also attend the convention of the California Dental Association which will be held from the 27th to 31st of this month. Upon his return he will report to the territorial association the matters of major importance considered at the national convention.

In addition to attending the two conventions Dr. Aiken purposes taking some further post graduate courses in dentistry while on the mainland. He will leave Maui Monday and sail from Honolulu, Wednesday. On the Coast he will join Mrs. Aiken and their child, who preceded him to the mainland. They expect to return the first week in September.

In attendance it may be advisable for numbers of the spectators to use this issue of the Maui News in lieu of the official program, of which the foregoing list of events and entries is a copy.

Will Observe Kamehameha Day With Bountiful Luau and Sports

With luau and carnival of sports and fun at the Fair grounds in Kahului tomorrow, the observance of Kamehameha day will center at that spot, the affair having the double significance of the celebration of the Hawaiian holiday and a benefit for a fund to meet Maui's great need, a children's home. At the luau, preparations have been made to feed between 1000 and 2000 persons at and between the two main sittings. Two orchestras and a quartet will furnish music for the diners and between sittings a program that will keep the crowd interested and enjoying itself will be carried out. Days running in to weeks have been spent in the preparations, generosity has been the keynote in supplying the materials for the feast and bountifulness will continue in the service of it. And a zest is given to the affair in the consciousness that the proceeds will go to save little children from misery, hunger, filth and want and to making them to number among the useful citizens of a few years hence.

Special Railroad Trains

All roads will lead to the fair grounds, one will have only to follow the crowd, and to assist in accommodating those who wish to attend the Kahului Railroad is putting on special trains. For up country folk there will be a morning train leaving Pauwela at 10 a. m., and making calls at all of the intermediate stops and a train will start down from Wailuku to Kahului at 11. Returning the special train for Wailuku leaves at 5:25 and the up-country train will depart immediately after the luau. Attendance need not interfere with plans for the swimming meet at Puunene tank which will start at 7:45.

Several additional numbers have been added to the program as it is finally announced as follows:

11:00 to 12:00—Hula dancing in Agricultural Building.
12:00 to 1:30—Luau served in Commercial building. Music and special entertainment. Luau served all afternoon.

Sports in front of grandstand:
1. Boy Scout exhibition, 1:30 to 2:05 p. m.
2. Calisthenics, "Waite Group," 2:05 to 2:25 p. m.

Athletic Sports Will Be Prominent Feature In Program of Fair

General outlines of what is wanted for the entertainment program of the Fair in the way of athletic sports was outlined to the athletics committee of the Maui County Fair and Racing Association by Fair Director D. C. Lindsay at a meeting of the committee which was held Monday night and the director was assured that his desires would be met and that he would have the full cooperation of the committee.

As heretofore, baseball will be the leading athletic sport for the Fair and it is expected that two teams from the outside will be brought to Maui. One suggestion is that the best teams of the army and navy, respectively shall be invited and the other is that the Asahis of Honolulu shall be one of the visiting teams. In addition to baseball it is probable there will be a soccer game, perhaps between Maui and a strong aggregation from Honolulu and there is a slight possibility of an American football game.

On Children's Day, the Friday of the Fair, there will be special sport events for children, one of the numbers suggested being a one hour "Go-as-you-please" race on the track. It is also suggested that there shall be some school contests in various branches of sport.

In connection with the general athletic program the subject of having boat races in Kahului Harbor was brought up by Mr. Lindsay and will have consideration. He said crews from Honolulu and Hilo are ready to come over and compete. Maui does not expect to have boats for crews by that time and the subject was referred to the swimming and boating committee of which Robert Hughes is chairman. Mr. Hughes took up the matter of a swimming carnival at or about the Fair period and his plan was endorsed by the fair director with the understanding it should be held on the eve of the Fair. Already the committee has the assurance that teams of girls and men will be sent over and that some of the Islands champions will be in the party from Honolulu.

Horse racing cards will fill in much of each afternoon and with the baseball and soccer there will not be a call for elaborate, extensive or a varied sports programs during the three busy days.

Hana Bank Plans—The safe for the new bank at Hana has arrived. It has been decided to start operations of the bank with a capital of $25,000 and it is expected to open for business in the very near future.

MAUI WOMAN'S CLUB CLOSES ITS BEST YEAR

New Officers Are Elected and Reports of Departments Show Record of Worthwhile Achievements.

Marking the end of a highly successful club year, Maui Woman's Club held its annual meeting and election of officers at the Territorial Building in Kahului last Monday afternoon and general club activities have ended until next fall.

Officers elected by the club for the coming year are Mrs. W. A. Baldwin, president; Mrs. David S. Wadsworth, vice-president; Mrs. J. T. Moir, recording secretary; Mrs. Worth O. Aiken, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Ben Williams, treasurer and Mrs. Alfred Taylor, auditor.

Reports Are Presented

Reports from the various departments of the club were presented and read, each telling its own story of work and achievement, and combined presenting a word picture of results successfully achieved most creditable to the organization and its work. Much credit goes to the civic department for the work done and results secured in the cleaning up and beautifying of Central and East Maui and cumulative results of the year's work by that department will grow up, a blossoming and flowering monument.

Another special achievement of the club during the year was the securing of the passage of the County Library Bill by the legislature followed by the purchase of a site and building by the county. In that connection praise is due the legislative committee for its careful attention to legislation pending at the special and regular sessions and regular reports on subjects in which the club was interested. Among such legislation was a woman court official for delinquent and dependent children, supplementary reading in the schools, and an appropriation for making a start in the free transportation to school of remote children.

It was the Woman's Club, too, which brought about the start of University extension service on the Island, but the foregoing are only some of the more outstanding achievements of the club.

Some Work Continues

Announcement of committees and department heads will be made later. Some of these committees and departments will find it necessary to continue their activities during the summer, particularly the program and press committees. A new year book is to be prepared, since the club wishes to keep itself up to date, and the press committee will work on this and have it ready for the first meeting of the new club year.

Wailuku Armory to be Put in Good Condition

Repairs and improvements to the Wailuku Armory are soon to be made and the building will be painted within and without in preparation for its use by the Wailuku company of the National Guard, about to organize. Captain William H. Engle has received a letter from General Headquarters in Honolulu authorizing him to have necessary repairs to and redecoration of the armory done and has been looking over to see what is necessary. The building will be put in shape for use as a drill place and club house for the company and the recruiting of the company is then to proceed.

Management of Royal Hawaiian Sales Co.

Changes in the management of the Royal Hawaiian Sales Company's Maui establishment have now been completed with Charles E. Morris in charge and Harry Holt has engaged in business on his own account in partnership with Frank Loeey in Kahului.

Mr. Morris though a new comer to Maui is not new to the Islands, having come to Hawaii first 16 years ago, but he has been away at different times since. He has been connected with the Royal Hawaiian Sales Company for about five months and previous to that time was connected with the Fennessy-Wilson company in Honolulu. He returned to the Islands from the mainland some months previous to joining the Fennessy-Wilson company to take a position on the editorial staff of the Star-Bulletin having been in the newspaper profession before entering the automobile sales field.

Mrs. Morris is with her husband and they will soon occupy the house formerly occupied by Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Bush, meantime stopping at the Wailuku Hotel.

Miss Sadie Carey to Render Recital June 29th at Kahului

Miss Sadie Carey, a former Maui girl, one of the Islands' latest and most brilliant singers, will render a song recital in the Territorial Building, Kahului, on the evening of Thursday, June 29. She will be assisted by Miss Dorothy Pasmore of the Puna-hoa musical department, who will render cello numbers and Mr. Ralph Fishbourne, who will give piano solos thus offering to the Maui public the most attractive musical program that has been presented this year.

Miss Carey will be welcomed home by her former Maui friends who rejoice in her success and are eager for the opportunity to hear her sing. Wednesday evening of this week she was to have given a recital at the Elks' Home in Honolulu and in advance of the entertainment the following highly commendatory article appeared in the Honolulu Advertiser:

"Among the most wonderful gifts of nature is a beautiful voice. No man-made musical instrument can compare in tone or appeal with this omnipotent creation. Nature is frugal with her gifts, however, and bestows them sparingly, but she has been exceptionally generous with Miss Sadie Carey, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. J. Carey, for this young lady has an unusual lyric soprano voice that portends for her a brilliant career."

"During the past year since her return from school on the mainland, Miss Carey has pleased many in Honolulu, with her singing at a number of affairs. Owing to her extraordinary voice, the title 'Hawaii's phenomenal soprano' has been given her."

"The young songster will give her first recital at the Elks' Club next Wednesday night, when she will be assisted by Miss Marjorie Booth at the piano and Miss Dorothy Pasmore on the cello. Those who have heard Miss Carey, are looking forward to her coming recital as a real treat."

"With her mother, Miss Carey will leave for New York City in July, from where it is expected they will go to Europe for the young singer to take up study under some of the best masters there. With the advantage of such training Miss Carey's future as a singer indeed holds great possibilities."

Maui Must Wait—Twenty-five thousand rainbow trout eggs were recently brought from the mainland to be placed in streams of Kaula and the Big Island. The fish commission was disappointed in not securing its full order of 75,000 and as a result Molokai and Maui will have to wait for a year before stocking of streams on them with trout is commenced.
